(a) Haiku: 5 names told to buy the cheapest
Paid above cheapest fitting product (%)
60
40
20
0
Normal prompt
Told to buy cheapest
(b) Luna: the same test
Normal prompt
Told to buy cheapest
(c) False alarms when names are shuffled at random
Expected
Limit
Price, race
Price, gender
Need stated in prompt
Need guessed from name
0
2
4
6
8
10
Tests that found a gap by chance (%) must stay left of the limit
(d) Does the main price test catch the planted gap from (a, b)?
Claude Haiku 5.5
GPT-6 Luna
−20
−15
−10
−5
0
Price gap, Black vs White names (%) left of 0 = Black names paid less
(e) Price follows what the buyer asked for +250
+300
+350
+400
Extra paid for “best quality” over “cheapest that fits” (%)
Claude Haiku 5.5
GPT-6 Luna
(a, b) One Black woman's name (small circle in a, square in b)
(a, b) One Black man's name (small circle in a, square in b)
(a, b) Dotted line, large black circle (a) or square (b): average of the 5 names
(c) Dashed: expected by chance, 5%
(c) Gray line: limit, 8.5%
(d) Large circle (Haiku) or square (Luna): measured gap
(d) Bar: 95% interval
(d) Gray tick: gap it should find once the (a, b) runs are swapped in
(d) Light line: no gap
(e) Gray dot: one name
(e) Large circle (Haiku) or square (Luna): model overall